MORNINGSTAR CEMETERY - 1880's
WILLOUGHBY

THE MORNINGSTAR CEMETERY:::: WILDoughby ( Fort Erie 1974)

This small unmarked family plot sits on the old Wale farm now owned by W.V. Vanshoonhoven . Their are probably about twelve graves in this plot, however only about six remain. The cemetery stands back from the river almost a mile in distance, and the path to it is almost overgrown with brush and weeds. The actual site is also overgrown and the stones are almost hidden by a growth of nettles, that must have been planted years ago. Although Mr. CWale lived most of his 90 yrs. on this farm; there appear to be no Wales burried in this cemetery, which leads one to believe that the large home that still stands to day( 1947( although built in 1799, was originally for the MORNINGSTAR FAMILY.
